

CONNERS ATTACKS CAMPAIGN FUND OF GOV. HUGHES

State Chairman Inquires Why Morgan, Rockefeller and Others Subscribed.

ASKS ABOUT RATE BILL.

Wants Governor to Explain What People Get Out of Public Service Commission.

Chairman "Fingy Connors was in a bad mood to-day."

"Gov. Hughes," he remarked, "says he represents all the people, and his aim is to see that for every dollar the State spends the people get a dollar's worth of value in return. Now let me read you some of the contributions made to Gov. Hughes's campaign fund two years ago:

J. P. Morgan, $20,000; Levi P. Morton, $20,000; John D. Rockefeller Jr., $5,000; Andrew Carnegie, $5,000; H. B. Hollins & Co., $5,000; Harvey Park & Son, $5,000; John W. Gates, Charles D. Barney, Kuhn, Loeb & Co., J. & W. Seligman, C. M. Depew each $2,500; W. C. Sheldahl, C. H. Mackay, C. M. Schwab, each $2,000, and a lot more like that, making a total of $332,523, of which $20,000 was borrowed from Timothy L. Woodruff. Connors is ironical.

"These," continued Mr. Connors with the irony, "these are the people, according to Gov. Hughes. Oh, no, these aren't no trusts; they're the real public."

"While he says he represents the common people and all the people of the State, this list shows that in reality he represents the select few."

"Look over the list. It might furnish reason to know why the two-cent fare bill was vetoed, why transfers were done away with in New York and why a whole lot of things happened. This is the list that was filed in the Secretary of State's office, but it isn't the other list that Treasurer Sheldon didn't file."

"What are the Democrats going to make the issues in the campaign?" was asked.

"This dollar for dollar business," replied the chairman. "Something over two millions have been spent by the utilities commissions. Have we got dollar for dollar out of that? Have they reduced street railway fares or gas or electricity rates or given more transfers? Where have they reduced freight or passenger rates on any or all railroads in the State? Show the people what they got for their two millions, or where there was dollar for dollar returned."

About the Primaries.

Somebody spoke of Gov. Hughes making the next nomination primaries an issue and asked what the Democrats intended to say on that subject.

"Our primaries are direct," retorted the Chairman hotly. "Our conventions are run by the people themselves. Ain't every delegate chosen directly by the people and didn't they every one have a say in the Rochester convention?"

"The Republican conventions, both State and national were run by one man. I guess Hughes is just talking. Maybe he is just looking to make places for some more of his mugs."

"What other issues will be discussed?" was asked.

"Say, you fellows have got enough for one day," shouted Fingy. "Do you want me to tell everything I know at at once? Get 'em out of here."

Connors has been sending out letters of appeal for funds to all the men who contributed to State campaigns in the past eight years. His letters say that the committee expects the contributions to be twice the size of those made in the past.

Fight for the State.

"New York is the crucial State in the campaign," said National Chairman Mack. "The candidate who carries it will be elected. Maryland, Delaware, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island will follow in its lead, for the same turn of sentiment that swings the Empire State will predominate in them. "While I do not say that it would be impossible for Mr. Bryan to be elected without New York, yet the State is a very great factor in deciding the contest. We intend to make here a vigorous contest."

Many speakers of first rank will be brought into the State. Mr. Bryan himself heads the list, followed by Mr. Kern, Senator Gore of Oklahoma, Senator Bacon, of Georgia; Senator Daniel, of Virginia, and Senator Rayner, of Maryland.

Tammany Hall has arranged for the opening of its campaign Saturday night with two meetings in the densely populated downtown section to feel the pulse of public sentiment on candidates and issues.

Sheriff Foley, the Sullivans, Julius Harburger and other leaders of the lower East Side will gather their clans in Hamilton Park. Lieut.-Gov. Chanler and other candidates on the State ticket will make speeches.

At the same time the lower West Side leaders, headed by Dan Finn, will have a meeting in Abington Square, waiting for the candidates to cross over from the East Side.

SEA SHELL CLUB BROKE WIFE'S SKULL

Aged Mechanic Held for Causing Woman's Death with Novel Weapon.

Accused of having caused his wife's death by hurling at her a large sea shell, which fractured her skull and nearly severed her left ear, Emil Knauff, sixty-one years old, a mechanic, who lives at No. 269 West Houston street, was today held for the Grand Jury by Coroner Shady. A jury found that Mary Knauff, fifty-eight years old, had died in St. Vincent's Hospital Sept. 22 as a result of injuries received at the hands of her husband four days previously.

It was brought out that Knauff and his wife quarrelled over 15 cents. Testimony was given by Policeman Muller, of the Mercer street station, and by Dr. Frawley, ambulance surgeon of St. Vincent's Hospital. Both swore that on the night of the fight Knauff had shown them a sea shell broken in two, and had described how with one blow the back of the heavy shell had knocked his wife unconscious, while its sharp edge had nearly severed her ear.

Dr. Frawley said that when he reached the house he found Mrs. Knauff slumped dead from loss of blood. She lived four days. Knauff will be held to await action by the Grand Jury.

MAID'S SCREAM SCARES TIMID WOMAN TO DEATH

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—The authorities of Arlington have just decided that the death of Miss Emily H. Niles, a wealthy resident of that town, who died suddenly last night, was due to heart disease, aggravated by the scream of a maid who thought she saw a strange woman in the house. The maid was frightened by a dress hanging in an open closet.
